WHY INVEST IN DUBAI

Strategic location

Dubai sits at the crossroads of Europe, Asia and Africa, bridging time zones across East and West and providing easy access to many of the world's fastest growing emerging markets.

Ease of business setup

Freezones give companies 100% foreign ownership, exemption from all import duties, 100% repatriation of capital and profits and freedom from corporate taxation.

Safe and very sound

Gallup's Global Law and Order 2023 Index revealed that the UAE is one of the countries where people feel safest.

World-class infrastructure

Dubai's vision to invest heavily in its transport, telecommunications and industrial infrastructure make it an incredibly attractive destination for international businesses.

Stable currency

The UAE dirham is pegged to the long-established and globally recognised US dollar hence providing balance and stability to the import and export markets.

Open and free system

Open economic policies, minimal government control and private sector regulation have played an instrumental role in attracting foreign direct investment (FDI).

Highly liquid property market

Investing in a Dubai property is very easy, relatively inexpensive and highly liquid. The market has some of the highest rental yields in the world, strong capital appreciation and readily-available financing options.

Global exposure and Dubai's credibility as a desirable lifestyle destination have resulted in a multinational customer base.

Furthermore, a well-developed broker base means property resale is also straightforward.

Tax efficient

Dubai is free from income tax for residents and there's no value added tax (VAT) levied on residential property for investors, making it a very attractive destination in terms of lifestyle as well as investment.

The UAE is in the top 10 according to the 2023 IMD World Competitiveness Ranking.

The foundation is keen to unlock the full potential of young people in the Arab region through education and hard work and supports the Al Hadaf Centre for People of Determination, Dubai Autism Centre and Al-Tariq Rehabilitation Centre as well as the Arab Hope Makers initiative.

HOW TO BUY PROPERTY IN DUBAI

Foreign nationals and companies, wholly or partly owned by them, have the right to purchase / own property in many parts of Dubai, without the need for any type of residency or similar permit.

Procedures

The procedure to transfer ownership of property purchased with cash is as follows:

1. Buyer and seller agree terms with/ without the assistance of a real estate broker or solicitor
2. Sign agreement of sale or Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) and pay the deposit (usually 10%)
3. Developer issues No Objection Certificate (NOC) after payment is received, providing all service charges have been settled in full
4. Buyer and seller go to Dubai Land Department (DLD) with the NOC to officially transfer ownership, with the following steps:
 - Pay registration fees and other duties
 - Hand over the manager's cheque amounting to the purchase price, payable to the seller on the date of transfer
 - New title deed is issued in the name of the buyer

If the seller has a mortgage, they must show that their mortgage is paid up in full, and show an NOC.

Time frame

An average cash property sale and purchase in Dubai is 30 days from start to finish. This can take longer if the seller has a mortgage.

Documents required

- Original title deed
- Original passport

Costs

There are certain standard costs incurred when selling and buying property in the UAE. The following fees apply to the sale and purchase of real estate in Dubai:

- NOC fee – between AED 500 and AED 5,000, payable to the developer, usually by the seller, subject to mutual agreement
- Real estate agent's commission – for the most part, paid by the buyer and usually 2% of the purchase price
- Registration fees – calculated at 4% of the purchase price plus administrative costs (currently does not exceed AED 5,000)
- Mortgage registration fees (if applicable) – calculated at a rate of 0.25% of the registered loan amount and paid to the DLD
- Building service charges – buyers are required to pay building service charges in advance to the developer / owners association. These are based on the property's participation quota
- Additional fees – payable to the developer and the DLD in order to discharge a seller's mortgage

Tax

The UAE laws currently place no restrictions on the number of properties a foreign national can own and there is no VAT levied on the ownership of a residential property. VAT is payable on commercial properties at a rate of 5%. Foreign nationals are encouraged to seek independent tax advice from experts in their home countries to know how their Dubai property ownership affects taxation elsewhere.

Inheritance

Generally, the principles of Shari'a Law apply to Muslims regarding inheritance issues. For non-Muslim foreign nationals, executed wills are accepted and the laws of succession in their country of citizenship are upheld by the UAE Courts.
